These works were selected out of the 89 submissions we received from the West's call for entry. A jury made up of Ron Kong, Sam Carter and Marlene Collins selected 31 works that were submitted to the narrator for the National Exhibition, Sandra Alfoldy, who then selected the above 28 pieces, to be integrated with the 162 pieces selected from across Canada.

An exhibition of up to 75 pieces will be formed out of the National Exhibition, to become one section of the 2010 Exhibition at the Vancouver Museum. The other two sections will include up to 60 pieces from the Korean Craft Museum and a section of up to 75 pieces that will focus on craft artists from our region. The call for entry for this last section is posted on our website and we encourage all craft artists to submit work for consideration – the world is coming to Vancouver and being a part of this exhibition is your chance to shine at an international event!!!
